GM'S notes

Hi Everyone,

43 members and 3 guests (Golden Cock, May and Janaki) were present at the New Car Park for Akzhole's Run. The hare told us it was a short simple run with two checks. He excused the shortness with the fact that it had been extremely hot, he had family commitments that had kept him busy and he was exhausted. He told us it was necessary to break the checks, firstly to find the way in and secondly to find the way home. He pointed vaguely to the right and said start looking that way.

Off we all troddled and Mini Sausage was aiming upward which seemed intelligent but we didn't see any paper. However there was a call further to the right and it was easy to get across to the trail.

The on up was not too vicious and the worst of the heat of the day had gone so we could get into a good paced rhythm. Just as we were starting to really enjoy ourselves we lost sight of paper and spent several minutes scurrying around trying to find where to go.

Golden Cock decided it had to be up as we were not yet at the top and he went beetling off to look. Mini Sausage had tried a different direction but had failed to find the trail so he was coming back our way. Golden Cock was calling so we all headed up to join him. We were concerned because there was no paper but then we saw Golden Cock waiting for us and he said we were on the trail but someone had picked up the paper and was throwing it in clumps to the side. Mini Sausage tried to scatter some paper on the path to make the trail clearer for those behind.

Pussycat and Golden Cock took it in turns to spot the discarded paper. After a little while we were back on paper and could stop the 'I-Spy' game. The trail veered off to the right but we could see paper going down to the left. Mini Sausage checked to the left and called on while Golden Cock went and picked the paper ahead up and put it clearly going into the turn.

The on down was a familiar very pleasant jog. Just before entering the park most of my companions turned to do a second round but Pussycat and I decided to quit while we were ahead.

Sammy put out the ice to remind me to get on with the circle but we were waiting for Uncle Bee to arrive so it sat in a space looking like one of those irrelevant sculptures that arty farty do gooders put in public spaces to inspire the community. Like the community, we all remained uninspired.

First on ice was Take Care who was charged with coming late and not running. Next we put Toddy Tan on ice for getting lost and in the end doing his own run. Uncle Bee was next as it was her birthday and she was rewarded for her hard work as GM the previous two years and chairperson for the 2000th Committee. She was generous enough to then donate 2 crates of beer to the gathering. Many thanks Uncle Bee that was a great touch. We then put the hare Akzhole on ice. He was thanked for filling the gap in the hareline. The short run was deemed very appropriate for a Thursday following the overeating and drinking that occurred and was still occurring during Chinese New Year. (Threats of diets and going on the wagon- for the uninitiated this means giving up booze- had circulated all evening). The food was delicious and the site great. The hare then charged the co-hare –Justbeer, for cooking the food. Last on ice was G-man who was thanked for providing a large box of mandarin oranges.

During the course of the evening Janaki became a member - welcome to the Harriets.

Don't forget next Thursday is the Chinese New Year dinner at Charlie Market. All members are welcome but if you do not run regularly please let Edna know you are coming so that catering is appropriate Sunday February 28th is the Chap Goh Mei run at the camp by the side of the old Mutiara Hotel. Run starts at 11,00am. The lunch is a pot luck picnic and everyone needs to bring their own plate and cutlery. No guest fees will be charged but guests are expected to contribute to the lunch ie. bring some food to share.

The AGM is coming up. It is your club ladies (men are associate members and do not have a vote), so make sure you attend and come with ideas of who you want on the committee. If you would like to be on the committee please tell a current committee member who will ensure you are proposed for the job you would like to do.

Many thanks Akzhole and Justbeer for a wonderful Thursday evening.

See you all next week. On...on....

Funnies

Goldie Cohen, an elderly Jewish lady from New York, goes to her travel agent. "I vont to go to India."

"Mrs. Cohen, why India? It's filthy, much hotter than New York, it's full of poor, dirty people."

"I vont to go to India."

"But it's a long journey, and those trains, how will you manage? What will you eat? The food is too hot and spicy for you. You can't drink the water. You must not eat fresh fruit and vegetables. You'll get sick: the plague, hepatitis, cholera, typhoid, malaria, God only knows. What will you do? Can you imagine the hospital, no Jewish doctors? Why torture yourself?"

"I vont to go to India."

The necessary arrangements are made, and off she goes. She arrives in India and, undeterred by the noise, smell and crowds, makes her way to an ashram. There she joins the seemingly never-ending line of people waiting for an audience with the guru. An aide tells her that it will take at least three days of standing in line to see the guru.

"Dotz OK." ...she says.

Eventually she reaches the hallowed portals. There she is told firmly that due to the long lines she can only say SEVEN words to the guru.

"Fine."

She is ushered into the inner sanctum where the guru is seated, ready to bestow spiritual blessings upon his eager initiates. Just before she reaches the holy of holiest she is once again reminded:

"Remember, just SEVEN words."

Unlike the other devotees, she does not prostrate at his feet. She stands directly in front of him, crosses her arms over her chest, fixes her gaze on his, and says: ...

"Sheldon, I'm your mother. Come home...NOW!"
