Notes from the GM

Hi Everyone,

There were 35 members and 5 guests (Pow Lin and Lesley- Grandma's friends, Bernita – Grasshopper's niece, Gemma – Akzhole's daughter and Teo – Gangrene's colleague) at Grasshopper's birthday run at the Indian Rover's Club.

We were told it was a medium run, to take a torch light and there was a check and a bar. Grasshopper led us along Boundary Road and we took the usual narrow path off to the left. We ran by an elderly man walking his yelping dogs who reassured us that the dogs would not harm us, much to Mini's amusement. Mini obviously couldn't imagine two minuscule dogs creating any problems for him! We ran between the houses at the end of the path and entered the jungle behind the Chinese Shrine doubling as a carport. We ran left through dense undergrowth until we reached the steep bank where we would really start the climb.

We continued clambering up and round, up and round until we found the check. Mini went to the left but most others hung around a bit and as Mini hadn't called yet we went to the right following Take Care who soon called "On on."

We climbed in earnest, up and more up, round a bit, down a bit and then up again, crossing various tracks on our way. The joy was a dry day with dry earth underfoot, no clogged heavy shoes and only rare thorns which were easily avoided.

Eventually we get to the top and then start the on down. This is always the best part for me. No more clambering, just a jog. We got close to some houses and thought perhaps it would be a very short run but then we had to veer off to the left and clamber up a bit more. On the final bit of the down we met Monty doing the reverse run and he pointed us in the right direction. I have a dreadful sense of direction but luckily Mini Sausage kept rescuing me until we reached the point where even I couldn't go wrong anymore.

We had a short circle. First on ice was Molly because she helps GM every week with the cards but usually she leaves early so the real charge was still being there. Next Ravi was called but he had already left so we put Goodyear on ice as a look alike. Ravi would have been charged with nice to see him because he has been missing in action. Akzhole and Grasshopper sat on the ice to get their birthday cake and various versions of Happy Birthday were sung. Next Bendover was iced for making the ladies excited with his talk of positions Busy Body was iced because we hadn't seen him for a long time and no one fixed our shoes or helped us get the unobtainable items we needed. Gangrene was iced for coming late. Monty volunteered a charge from the floor and wanted to ice an elderly China man but he couldn't locate him so he sat on the ice and told the story anyway. Apparently the guy turned back the moment we had to clamber up the steep bank. Last on ice was Grasshopper and the run was deemed excellent, the food delicious and the location good.

Once the circle was over the party started. Grasshopper brought brilliant equipment and music and his friends were DJs. Not everyone danced but there were dancers on the floor most of the evening. Belly Bitch demonstrated a superb Belly Dance and then Bendover had a go – this was a riot. Luckily the people in the surrounding apartments are long suffering and no one complained. It was after midnight when hashers started to make a move so that many of us were in slow mode on Friday morning

We had a fantastic party and if you were unlucky enough to miss it you will kick yourself when you here the stories.

Many thanks Grasshopper for such a great party It was a brilliant Thursday evening,

AN ATHEIST IN THE WOODS

An atheist was walking through the woods.

'What majestic trees!
'What powerful rivers!
'What beautiful animals!
He said to himself.

As he was walking alongside the river, he heard a rustling in the bushes behind him.

He turned to look. He saw a 7-foot grizzly bear charge towards him.

He ran as fast as he could up the path. He looked over his shoulder and saw that the bear was closing in on him.

He looked over his shoulder again and the bear was even closer.

He tripped and fell on the ground.

He rolled over to pick himself up but saw that the bear was right on top of him, reaching for him with his left paw and raising his right paw to strike him...

At that instant the Atheist cried out, 'Oh my God!'

Time Stopped.
The bear froze.
The forest was silent.

As a bright light shone upon the man, a voice came out of the sky.

'You deny my existence for all these years, teach others I don't exist and even credit creation to cosmic accident.'

'Do you expect me to help you out of this predicament? Am I to count you as a believer?'

The atheist looked directly into the light, 'It would be hypocritical of me to suddenly ask you to treat me as a Christian now, but perhaps you could make the BEAR a Christian?'

'Very well,' said the voice.

The light went out. The sounds of the forest resumed. And the bear dropped his right paw, brought both paws together, bowed his head and spoke:

'For what I am about to receive, may the Lord make me truly thankful, Amen.'
