Notes from the VGM.

Hi Everyone,

Rain, rain and wet, soggy mud all over the market place with potholes covered with water waiting for someone to put their foot into it to find out the consequences was the essence of last Thursday's run.

The Co-hares (Take Care and Shao Lim, many thanks to them for organising the run since Johnny Lee was in China) told us about the potholes and slippery trail and warned to be careful.

Only 11 runners braved the rain as we moved towards Chai Leng market hill with Edna and I the rare females as Justbeer had started earlier. The rest took shelter under the market roof enjoying the cool air and the contents of the beer can!!

As we advanced towards the hill the rain came down heavier and to make matters worse I managed to slide down again and again with every attempt to go further up the slippery slopes. After one last try I decided to abandon the effort and detoured to No 16 and then back to the runsite, hence not finishing the run. I was told later that it was not a long run but even the normal FRB's took over an hour to complete it since the terrain was incredibly slick and the skid marks of fallers plainly visible. But most enjoyed it!!

As the evening progressed with the runners slowly returning, concern grew over three members who were still out and by 8pm the call of "Send in the Hare" was clearly being heard around the sheltering group. However, slowly one by one they returned from different directions with Bai

Pass the last returnee looking like an exhausted cross channel swimmer and clearly thankful to be back, since he had neither water, torch nor phone with him which is NOT recommended!!!. His look towards the sky and a few mumbled words of thanks were enough to know how happy he was to return unscathed. With Jorgen and Fancy Pants coming out a little time before him all breathed a collective sigh of relief, especially Take Care!!

Despite the lateness of the hour we had our usual circle.

First on ice was Bai Pass for being the last to return and being idiotic in not equipping himself properly.

Next up was Fancy Pants who actually completed the run..but last Monday's PH3 run as he missed the turn up the hill and he followed their paper home.

The Co-hares Take Care and Shao Lim were thanked on behalf of the Hare for setting a good but very slippery run and organising the welcome food of Sau Hor Fun.

Next on ice was Akz Hole in celebration of his birthday, where another wonderful home made cake was presented. I would also like to thank Mike for helping the Harriets in many ways behind the scenes and for always being willing to lend a hand when needed, especially setting runs for those who cannot. So a big thank you Mike.

A charge from the floor by Geeman saw Money Manfred on ice for disrespecting the circle by talking during it.

This charge was countered by Bibi Tulips who charged Geeman with getting his facts wrong as it was she who was talking and not Money.

The circle was then closed.

It was good to see that despite the bad weather more people turned up later in the evening to enjoy the social part of the night after they had finished their respective work and it goes to show what a great social atmosphere the Harriets generate for people to come out on such a night. Thank you to all.

Lastly I welcome Jorgen as a new member to the club. He has been a guest of late but was very happy to join us as a member. Welcome.
