Notes from the On Sex.

Hi Everyone,

It was a wet evening for Fancy Pants' Run but at least we had the shelter of the temple canopy to keep us dry. Because of the rain the initial turn out was low with only 8 people (including 2 guests James and Roodog) going out for the run and I'm sorry to have to say this but they were ALL MEN. The ladies sat in the dry and chatted!! What's happened to our adventurous spirit these days girls??

I will say though, that of the 8 men, only 3 actually did the whole run with the early returnees spouting a lack of paper to follow. Seems strange this, as I helped to set the run and we CLIPPED a lot of paper. More strange is that the 3 who did finish were on paper all the way!!! But that's hash for you lah!!

We may have had only a few for the run but certainly more turned up afterward for the good food and drink provided by the Hare and a great convivial atmosphere pervaded for the rest of this great evening. It may have been rainy and gloomy outside but where we were, we had great fun. So I say a big thank you to Fancy Pants, not only for his generous hospitality on the night but also for stepping in at the last moment to host this run and so soon after returning from Germany. THANK YOU!!!!

Venue: Jln Tembaga - Waterfall

Hare: Fancy Pants

Scribe: Black German

There were ominous signs in the sky - dark clouds hung low over the south east and threatened to open up into a great deluge over our run but then .. Hash always relies on the dedicated few. Just Beer made the usual announcements and introduced our guests, Fancy Pants announced the run details and off we went in the rain, up the familiar steps and on up to the riverside Ang Kong above the waterfall – a grand total of 6 Hashers and 2 Aussie guests. Past the rain swollen streams and on right along the Farlim route.

Manfred was his usual self trying to outrun everyone and getting off paper .. again! Gurdial led the two Aussies on up the hill and we followed suit though we could not find paper. Then the familiar ‘here is ppapperr’ from Manfred who came in on our right where he was lost.

The used car salesman suggested that we head straight up and are sure to find paper on the summit – we did just that and after a bit of scouting around stumbled on paper just beyond the badminton court .. of course Manfred was nowhere to be seen.

With the beer wagon beckoning and the dearth of paper on the trail we decided to head back along the normal hikers track. Ten minutes after we arrived back Manfred was back with his usual stories. Gurdial did a great job of being on paper and returning our guests in good form. Good makan and a good evening but we didn’t have a circle, though that didn’t stop Just Beer from getting excited over the Aussie guests.

Thanks to Fancy Pants who comes in from Germany to set a run, those who assisted him and all those who turned up despite the traffic and weather to make the evening a success.

KEEP THE MOTOR RUNNING

After being married a year, the couple went to the hospital for the birth of their first child. The attending nurse came out of the delivery room to congratulate the old gentleman and said, "This is amazing. How do you do it at your age?" The old man grinned and said, "You got to keep the old motor running."

The following year, the couple returned to the hospital for the birth of their second child. The same nurse was attending the delivery and again went out to congratulate the old gentleman. She said, "Sir, you are something. How do you manage it?" The old man grinned and said, "You gotta keep the old motor running."

A year later, the couple returned to the hospital for the birth of their third child. The same nurse was there for this birth also and after the delivery, she once again approached the old gentleman, smiled, and said, "Well, you surely are something! How do you do it?" The old man replied, "It's like I've told you before, you got to keep the old motor running." The nurse, still smiling, patted him on the back and said:

"Well, I guess it's time to change the oil. This one's black."
