NEWSLETTER 2163

GM'S NOTE:

The guests Mini and Bibi's two daughters, Marieke and Elena, who are no stranger to the Harriets, were gathered at the run-site waiting for the rest of the pack to turn up, when we arrived. They were joined by John, Maireke's other, Oliver and W'Anchor .

As Akz Hole is still not fit enough to hash he had to contract the run to Sai Seng who came at the very last minute to tell us all something about it, which was that the On Up was all virgin and to enjoy it.

As usual Money and Goodyear went off like a shot and naturally already thought they knew where the paper was going and headed off in the WRONG direction. Like sheep the rest of us started to follow until we heard a roar from Sai Seng telling us we were ALL getting it wrong. He came over to the bridge and pointed in the right direction for the start. Most turned around and went the correct way but the FRBs didn't and hence had to do their own run. Later we heard the excuses that there was no paper but if you looked carefully it was there and led to the On In.

Having been pointed in the right direction we hit the start of the long On Up. Being at the back as usual (this week even Silentman had deserted me) I made steady progress and soon joined Jose and Heang. Just as we were on the rise, Money, Goodyear and Oliver came down and began advising us NOT to go as the trail was full of thorns and if I went left I would hit the downward path to Moongate (which was NOT the correct way out). As tempting as it sounded Jose, Heang and I decided to plow on and do the whole run as set.

The trail WAS a virgin one and I could imagine the effort made by Sai Seng as he had created a path by slashing away thorny bushes and small shrubs and in many places the ground was soft and slippery. We met Longhair and Caroline (Monty's daughter) doing a reverse run. Poor Caroline looked exhausted and after assuring her the end was not too far away we continued on.

The flora and fauna of the jungle was beautiful and both Jose and Heang were admiring the girth of a huge tree we came across. As I have said many times to people, Hashing is one way of seeing the hidden treasures of Penang where no tourists go.

Jose was beginning to tire and asked about a short cut but alas where we were it was best to continue. We hit the top soon after and started on the On Down with a sense of relief. It was a familiar trail but quite long but we soon heard shouts from the quarry and other voices as we descended. At long last we hit the road at the bottom and made the run-site just in time as the food was being served.

It was a pity that for some reason this night the usual lights were not on but there was light enough for people to enjoy the evening which was still going strong when Mike and I left after 11pm.

Many thanks go to Akz Hole for hosting the evening and arranging everything. The food was very simple but extremely tasty Beehoon and fried chicken which was demolished by the pack in short time. Akz Hole also gives his thanks to Sai Seng for setting for him and we do too!

CIRCLE:

1. Money, Goodyear and Oliver were given the 'honour' of the first icing. This was in punishment and interrogation for doing the run "their way" and NOT "the right way".
2. We love to welcome guests and this week's guests had grown by the time the run had ended, with Marieke, Elena, John, Oliver, W'Anchor, Ah Lai and Caroline being welcomed.

3. A charge from the floor by Christine saw Rob being iced for wearing NEW SHOES!! Being a seasoned hasher he should have known better and perhaps he'll remember in future that members of the pack have sharp eyes.
4. Another charge from the floor brought Money to the ice as charged by W'Anchor. W'Anchor then proceeded to show the pack Money's new way of NOT scratching himself by tapping any itchy part to rhythm. W'Anchor wanted to know if that is what he did when he wanted sex. Soie wasn't answering that one!!!
5. Pauline was charged by Iceman for asking to look at the hole on her bum. Naturally any Hash gentleman would not refrain from such a duty especially when asked and so he inspected but it was the hole in her leggings she was pointing out much to his chagrin!! Akz Hole also found 2 more holes and saw she was wearing purple panties underneath. However she refrained from showing the rest of the pack!
6. As promised last week, we would formally welcome our two latest members this week. However only one turned up and so we gave him a second dose of cold bum. After running with the Harriets off and on for several years ROB @ Shit in a Pit (ask him the story) finally decided to join the Club. Welcome and long may you remain with us.
7. Yet another charge from the floor saw Goodyear but Tiger Samy on ice. Samy NEVER hashes in Penang but has been to Interhash (Kuching) and has just returned from Pan Asia (Thailand) and this week is off to Medan for a hash. Truly an international hasher!
8. No hash is complete without a trail to follow and hence the contractors Sai Seng and Panda Bear were given due thanks for the semi-virgin run. It may have been a little short for the FRBs but it was great for the rest of us and the ON UP a real toughie!!
9. The final icing was reserved for the Hare of the day Akz Hole. Many thanks for organizing the evening festivities and we hope you'll be back running soon.

FUNNIES

This big, brawny, dark-skinned Latin guy walks into a bar. On his shoulder is a beautiful blue-and-red parrot. The bartender says, admiringly "That's beautiful where'd you get it?"

and the parrot says "Down in Mexico there's millions of 'em!"
