NEWSLETTER 2198

GM'S NOTE:

RUN SITE – TAR COLLEGE NEW ROAD

Fantastic turnout of 49 members and more than a dozen invited guests from THK who came for our hare's run at Tar College, New Road.

Guests fees increased to Rm10 and Beer prices going up next week too....how much??? Yet to be determined by Seng Hoe.....

Guests of hare, Bombay and Derrick completed the run within 49 mins and all were out before 8pm.

Burst by Marks And Spencer :-

Runners numbered more than 30, gathered at the run site situated beside the Chinese temple. The hare of the day, probably after having a pint or two appeared at the start of the run with the announcement that the paper trails consisted of papers from several chapters, and that it would be a medium run.

Off we went at a slow pace as the front runners were still suffering from the effects of their visit to Hainan. We crossed a bridge over a crystal clear pond and trudged past a Chinese shrine manned by an Indian man. The familiar trail led to a farmer's house and a river that flows from the water treatment plant opposite the main trail. It soon led us to the usual path that would take us up to another main trail that is used by our water men who maintain the paths and trails of their water pipe reticulation system.

The front runners soon broke off with Good Year in tow and the second batch of runners was trailing behind, chit-chatting away the adventures experienced in Hainan and the on-going saga of the MH 370 crisis. The climb soon led to the PBA path and turned left. By then our front runners were nowhere to be seen and the second batch led by Tiny soon turned right and up the hill that would eventually lead us to the familiar black pipe. The paper trail was clearly marked with papers clipped to the leaves or tree trunks facing our direction as we trudged up the hill.

We zig-zagged up the slope and soon arrived at the ridge and the familiar black pipe. Fortunately when we arrived at the ridge we did not have to hike to the topmost point of the ridge and shortly were able to walk on fairly even ground following the black pipe. In no time we met up with Good Year who informed us that we were on reversed paper. As we thought that we had followed the correct direction of the run, we naturally told him that we had followed the trail as the papers were facing our direction. There was some friendly battle of words and rebuts. Later I heard Speedhound shouting to us that we were on correct paper. Nonetheless our group continued, having completed the first half of the run.

At one point as I was gingerly maneuvering my way across a huge granite rock face, I slipped and slid down the granite surface and thank God, I was able to hold on to a cleft of the rock and pulled myself up. If not there would be another SAR because it was about a hundred feet down the granite surface and nobody was insight.

Along the way we soon met up with the other runners, in particular Fancy Pants who insisted that I was on reversed run.

As usual, we confidently informed him that we were on the right direction.

Soon we reached a junction and we turned left down the familiar PBA path and after a lengthy run turned right down the slope and across the little valley and happily ran to our run site.

It was a good runners' run over the trail that the second group of runners had followed, no doubt about it.

Cheers everyone!
