NEWSLETTER 2210

GM's Note:

Stinking market again????? Two weeks in a row, but this time, it's a Joint run with our fellow FTAC members. Parking lots were limited for the 100's over members who came for the run and many had to park elsewhere to get to the runsite.

Some of the Bunny's invited guests came from Lunas friday Hash, THK and PiH and all in- 16 of them were set for a fun filled night., Foods were plentiful and many came for 2nd or 3rd helpings.....

Thank You to Datin Mak Toh Tak for a wonderful evening and delicious food.....

BURST: Thur 12th June 2014

Charlie Market

Driving to the run-site I noticed a number of DAP flags along the roadside and when we arrived at Charlie Market I thought we had come to a political rally! First of all there were cars everywhere and we had to drive round the market twice to find a parking place. Then there were people everywhere, a few familiar faces but most I could not recognise. Near the entrance to the car-park there was a line of familiar female bodies all dressed in the same Harriets black and red celebratory uniform standing behind a row of empty tables, which told me that at least I was in the right place for the run. At the official hash time of 6pm all was made clear: GM announced it was a joint run with FTAC who had set the run, whilst the Harriets were providing the food (which explained the ladies in uniform!). Then a long list of guests was called out including an appreciable contingent from Lunas, before GM called the off. The large pack set off up the Hash Highway as usual. However as I was suffering from a back problem I ducked down the early turn on the right to avoid any climbing, amid boos and shouts of "what are you doing?". According to my informant the run started the same way as Smiling Horse's the week before, up the hash highway and then off to the left, even using the same bar to avoid the bees. It was a good on up with sweat dripping out of every pore. It was a really hot humid evening so the top came as a superb relief. The on down was a scramble down back to the highway and then a lovely run back to the site. A good Thursday workout. Arriving back at the market at the same time as the front runners Goodyear and Iceman, after having checked out some interesting Chinese tombs dating from the 1920's, I found that the tables had been magically filled up with a vast array of delicious food including titbits which could be immediately consumed. The main pack arrived back and soon an expectant queue formed up before the tables. Based on their happy faces as they left with full bowls, they clearly appreciated the feast that had been prepared by the Harriets catering team!
