NEWSLETTER 2216

GM's Note:

A minute's silence was observed for those who had died so unnecessarily @ MH 17 tragedy.

Haze days are back and it was so bad that one could not see Penang Hill from the City center couple of days earlier. But luckily, it was clear blue skies @ Youth park Carpark runsite or should we renamed it to "Mosquito runsite?" This is one of the few runsites where many would gather around the GM for she has the "solution" to their problems -- "Mosquito Coil" burning around her! Hashers on the run were not spared either- many were stung by Bees too. The 1st runner was out within 37 mins and everyone came out in the light, A good short run for a change.

We welcome back Dick Lim as a rejoining member of the "running club where he wants to be"...On..on

Burst

The run started with about 30 members in attendance and was announced by the harriet as a medium run with two checks. About 20 runners started the run with Money Manfred and Good Year leading the pack. The trail head was at the usual Information Centre, thence to the trail below the horse stable, strewn with saw dust mixed with horse urine.

Along the way, we helped ourselves to the rambutans, ripped for picking. We then crossed the stream and entered into a path behind the Jesselton Heights houses and encountered the check which was easily overcome by Money Manfred. Mark and Good Year who were following behind were indeed glad to hear of the find and jogged along the trail that led to the water tank tower area. The trail then went uphill and we soon reached some boulders.

I was trudging uphill and caught a glimpse of Good Year after traversing the boulders. I gave out a shout when I felt two bee stings on both sides of my buttock and immediately ran up hill. I immediately shouted to warn Money Manfred of bees, hoping he or the other runners would have heard me.

I guess the adrenalin overcame the pain and I soon caught up with Good Year at the granite rock face which overlooks the Penang Turf Club.

The trail was familiar after the granite rock face and we soon reached the peak of the hill behind Jesselton Heights. The trail was downhill but it soon turned upwards towards the usual hiking trail used by hikers coming from the Youth Park. We crossed this trail and immediately went downhill towards another stream. By then Good Year had bolted and disappeared from sight.

The trail turned uphill before it reached another of the hiker's trail that leads down to the Youth Park and our run site. Soon we learned that many of us were stung by the bees, however the bee stings did not really affect the veteran runners who would have by now got immune to the stings!

It was a good work out nevertheless!
