GM's Note:

Stinky market really stinks! The aroma was so bad that we had to shift to the furtherest point @ Charlie market.

About 36 hashers and 3 guests turned up for our Mr. Take Care's run and when circle was called, I reminded everyone about the coming Joint hash ball event @ 14th Nov 2014 and that it is compulsory for all members to contribute positively towards this event and the success depends on each and everyone of us at this CLUB. So, GRAB your tickets ASAP from any of the committee members

Burst

Burst of Harriets hash run at Charlie Market on 02 Oct. 2014

Hare: Take Care

It was the day of my arrival in Penang after $\frac{1}{2}$ year absence when I was approached by the Harriet GM to write the burst for the next run. You promised last year she reminded me so no escape was possible. Then Uncle Bee approached me again on the day of the run in order to remind me to write the burst. So, I write.

No rain on the horizon promised to get a good run with no slip and shove up. The hare Take Care announced a medium run and up we went on the highway. Not long after, the paper turned left onto the path parallel to the hash highway. After a short while, Lily sped off and was not seen anymore. Tiny, Mark and Goodyear followed quickly and later Michael longhair followed, who was late as usual. So very soon, yours truly walked alone, skirting left where the paper was supposed to lead us to Bonsai but soon going up to the right and suddenly very steep down again to the left, just followed by and even steeper and longer on up.

The clever runners did not follow paper at this point and stayed up until they found paper again then skirting right onto one of the most beautiful areas in Penang jungle. Mr and Mrs Viking got stuck at the huge drop, same as Fancy Pants who realised it was a tricky set-up of Itchy Bai but too late to return and thus suffered a late arrival at the run site.

However, arriving at the top of a beautiful area opens to the hashers on jungle trails, inviting to run on soft soil and to see the sun going down over the sea and twinkling through the trees. Only Iceman accompanied me for a short while. Then going down to the hash highway and back to Charlie Market where all hashers already assembled, talking, drinking beer and having food. Short cutting? Of course not! They are all FRBs!? Nice when everyone was back just in time before GM called for circle. Then it turned out that Itchy Bai set the beautiful run alone because no other co-hare turned up and the hare was busy all day angling fish and slow-cooking curry.
