Joint Hash Ball Event – 14th Nov 2014

A fantastic evening indeed for many who attended. At the eleventh hour, the Organising Committee decided on free flow of Beers for everyone while stock lasts and in fact, it lasted the whole night thru.

Cocktail started from 6.30pm until 8.20pm. Our sole organist, Mark, played and sang well throughout the period. Everyone was in a jovial mood- catching up with old timers, or snapping photographs here and there. Please visit our Website to view photos.....

The jovial mood continues on until past midnight and all these would not have happened WITHOUT YOUR PRESENCE & SUPPORT. A Big Thank you to the following participating chapters who supported from far and near - Lunas Friday, BM4H, Butterworth Harriets, Butterworth HHH, Butterworth Hazards, SebarangPerai HHH, SP Full Moon, Indian Associations, PSC, FTAC, THK, Pih, Pg Rainforest HH, MBS Hash, Three thirsty hash, Damasara Hash and of course PH3 and us.

My deepest Appreciation to all committee members of the Event and also to those who helped in one way or another and during the event itself.

We could not have done it without YOU and also not forgetting our main sponsor GAB And Seng Hoe.....Thank You!!!

I will be COLLECTING your X'Mas Contribution from this thur onwards...

Hare of the Day – Joanne Tan

Date: 13/11/2014

Runners numbered more than 27, gathered at the usual corner of the Botanical Garden's mini shop-lots. The harriet of the day, could not be found and Tiny, representing GM made the announcement of the trail.

The weather was cool after a brief heavy shower, and was always a welcome respite after months of hazy days.

Surprise of the day was Iceman who was unusually on time for the run and the brunt of the joke was on him, blaming him for bringing the rain and what not.

Sue, our lady guest from New Zealand was seen with her torn pants patched up and her reasoning was that this would be her last run of her visit and the pants would be presented as a lucky draw for the hash ball!

Off we went with the front runners led by Iceman, Goodyear and Tiny. I tried my level best to keep up the pace having recovered from an assortment of knee and wrist injuries. We crossed the bridge and onto the familiar trail head. As we struggled up the initial slope which was slippery made worse by the rain, the front runners were seen retracing their steps as they followed the wrong trail. Again our dear Iceman was blamed for it.

Anyway on we went into the hill, but for a short while as the trail went right towards the direction of our run site and the garden of the Indian temple. From there we climbed the slope and reached the rear of the Indian temple and thence onto the usual trail into the hill situated on the right side of the botanical garden.

The trail was soggy, slippery and most parts were ploughed by wild boars hunting for grubs, as the soil was made soft by previous days' heavy rainfall. The going was tough, on a scale of 8 out of 10.

The trail was cleverly laid, crisscrossing the familiar trail and soon we were climbing up the trail that would have taken us to the top of the hill and onto the lily pond.

As soon as we were about to reach the hill ridge, we met our New Zealander guest, Keith who had the audacity to ask if we were on the right trail! Surely he was met with disdain and correctly put in place! (it turned out that he had wandered into the reversed trail).

The trail however turned to the left before we could reach the ridge of the hill, and was downhill all the way. I happily jogged and slide down the trail and soon caught up with Iceman and Goodyear, the former explaining a surgical procedure of a friend who underwent an operation.

I overtook them in order not to break the momentum of my run, however I lost the paper trail and found myself on the on-up trail. It would appear that the on-up and return papers were laid about 10 metres apart and that explained why Keith could have wandered into the reversed trail.

Goodyear then shouted that they were on the correct paper and I had to cut back through thick undergrowth instead of retracing up the slope. We reached the run site in 45 minutes. Though the run was short, the tough trail made worse by the rain had resulted in a very good and satisfying run!

Scribe of the day,

Marks & Spencer (btw who is Spencer?)

On On;s

1. The first charge as usual was for the guests-Sex and Sausages, Keith, General Soon and Ai Lee's two guys.

2. Next on the ice was Rupiah who was wearing a colourful sarong and was charged with being a beautiful Indonesian gadis.

3. Mother Hen was then called in and was rewarded with a mug for completing 1,800 runs! Congratulations Edna.

4. Keith was then iced for a multitude of crimes. The front runners were scrambling up a hill when they met him coming down. He accused them of going the wrong way. He continued in reverse and managed to get himself in strife and his face was covered in blood. So he accosted an unsuspecting local lady who gave him water and then brought him back to the site on a motor bike. HeHewas reminded that it is a RUN.

Goodyear then charged Mini Sausage, Money Manfred and a German guest for continuously talking during the circle

Next Goodyear charged Beauty Queen for arriving at hash in a swanky new car and Take Care was made to join her because he hadn't made the sale.

The cooks were iced for being in uniform as usual and for providing such delicious food that was served with smiles.

Finally the Bunny was called out but Anal Probe was missing in action so her good friend Hair Do was chosen as substitute and thanked for a good but slippery run, delicious food and a great location for a wet Thursday.

THE HARE

Joannee aka Anal Probe.....

THANKS TO ALL THE INDIAN FRIENDS FOR A GOOD FOOD AND RUN...GOOD NIGHT
