GM's Notes

Driving up to the dam was a breeze in the morning except for the crowd at the market and getting stuck behind a tractor. Money was waiting and soon Nick and Frank joined us. With instructions to where we should go in the three of us set off with Money leading and Nick telling us that Frank wanted the trail to go to the Chinese temple.

We skirted the hill and came across some old Harriets' paper and some from another Chapter. The road could be seen occasionally and Nick reminded us about the Chinese temple. On and on we skirted and climbed and Nick reminded us again about the temple.

Once we saw the road, Money asked should we go down or carry on, with Nick once again saying about the temple. We went on up the hill and I recalled a previous set run when the ground was all scorched and burnt. There was a HUGE log in our path and I couldn't get over it so Nick just picked me up and took me across. Nick once again mentioned about the temple and then remembered and took from his bag a now sweat drenched map drawn in pencil given to him by Frank. Money and I were somewhat surprised since he hadn't mentioned it before. Looking with difficulty at the map we found that the now infamous temple was in another direction and so we just carried on. Poor Nick looked very dejected and complaining that Frank will be very disappointed that we had not gone to the temple.

When we exited on to the road Money showed him the way to the temple and suggested if he wanted to he could lay paper from here to the temple but that it was about another Km from where we were. Money and I went off down the hill but Nick soon caught us up having decided discretion is the better part of valour!!

In the evening the members arrived in slow numbers and ex-Harriet Angelique and family also arrived. After the normal introductions the pack was off and Cheng started to cut the fruits in readiness.

The evening was lovely, cool and refreshing. Goodyear was first back, as normal, in about 50 minutes, followed by the rest. The last was in by 7.30pm.

Cheng announced dinner was ready and the members crowded around the food table to partake of salad, home-made dhal and chicken curry with bread. Delicious!!

So many thanks to Cheng for the good run and great food.

Sorry about the temple though Frank!!!

Circle

1. As usual our guests are given the first honour of being welcomed to the run. Since Angelique is an ex-Harriet she was asked to actually sit on ice where she was joined by the whole family. It has been 6 years since she left. It was great to see her and the family once again. How time flies!!!
2. Helmut was then charged by Goodyear for not knowing which car park to go to. He proudly showed off his kara though given by Goodyear last week.
3. Call Girl was next on ice since she rarely comes to the hash these days but tonight she came but was adorned in band aids after an accident. She didn't run though!!
4. Money charged Pimp for not mentioning the map and then when he did remember it was too late and very soggy.
5. In immediate retaliation Pimp then charged both Money and the GM for not listening to him about going to the temple.
6. Call Girl then charged all three, Pimp, Money and the GM for not listening to each other whilst setting and reminding the GM of Pimp's heroics in carrying the GM over the log.
7. The final icing for the evening was for Mem Sahib who was duly thanked for hosting the evening and organising a good run and delicious food.

Don't forget that any Nepal donations go to the following people:

Money donations to AML; material (food, clothes, etc) donations to Rupiah.

Finally it is Mother's Day today and I therefore wish all mother's out there a very happy day. I hope your loved ones are pampering you.

Welcome back!
