GM's Notes

It rained all afternoon even as Sai Seng, Uncle Bee and myself waited for GoodYear to turn up for the run-setting. As we drove to the carpark next to the Chinese School the rain slowed somewhat to a fine trickle. Goodyear and Sai Seng, being chief hares, led the way from the carpark towards and through the Chinese Cemetery to the right. At the gates we turned left and up onto a narrow track then down across the gully and up the other side to a palm oil plantation. The rain had turned the soil into wet mud and thus it was very slippery going up but an absolute nightmare going down.

As it was one hill, we criss-crossed it ending up with 4 on ups and downs, just to give everyone a good workout. Each climb wasn't so high, actually <100m but it was very tough in the conditions. The swarming mosquitoes didn't help either, biting at every part of you if you stayed still for too long!!

The last On Up led us out to an excavated quarry with two rocks in a chain formation. Following the now wide open but muddy track we slowly made our way down to the ground whilst admiring the panoramic view from the top and then once more into the high grass to emerge back at the cemetery. Helmut was waiting at the car park with water and 100+ when we arrived, just as the rain came on heavily once more.

Because of the traffic conditions on the bridge, Hashers were already arriving early and it was great to see so many turning up. Even Samy turned up, went on the run and “rescued” the slow runners who all came out early.

Anjalai was out first with Iceman hot on her heels and pursued by Tina. The others dribbled in after that and were grateful for the soft drinks provided. By 7.30pm we all moved off to Helmut’s place for dinner.

A wonderful array of food was on offer, with pork, sausages (a few varieties), chicken, beef goulash, Beetroot soup, potatoes, salads, sauerkraut, finished off with a delicious cheese cake made by Renata. It was a feast to remember. The beers were also flowing thick and fast!!

Then Cheng and Frank got out the durians and although everyone was previously moaning about haven eaten too much, those lovers of the ‘king of fruits’ were soon devouring them almost greedily!!

It was a fabulous evening and thank you to our very generous hosts Helmut and Renata for the sumptuous dinner and a big thank you to all who turned up ‘across the water’. We had a surprising 30 members and Helmut had also invited some friends, so the crowd was quite large and in good voice, which added to the great evening.

Circle

1. Our usual welcoming of the guests kicked off the circle with Ann, Raman, Sarus and Loh joining us for the evening.
2. It is not usual to see Samy, other than busily attending to everyone’s beer needs but today he was off duty and went on the run. He became chief SCB (Punk wasn’t there) and guided the slow runners out after the first on down and back to safety!!
3. Congratulations to Tiny on achieving 300 runs and as we all know Tina it will be 300 RUNS too!!
4. Bai Pass turned up somewhat late and as he doesn’t seem to run much these days he was inaugurated as part of the Dinner Club!!
5. Renata was especially thanked for being hostess and providing (with Helmut of course) a fantastic spread for us all to enjoy. We also wished her farewell since she is returning to Europe to look after her ailing parents and we don’t know when she will return. Good luck Renata we wish you well and your parents’ a return to good health.
6. Helmut was next on ice as the Hare of the Day. Again a big thank you for the delicious spread, for organising the run and providing drinks both soft and alcoholic. A great evening.
7. The last icing was at the behest of the GM to thank Sai Seng for helping out once more by not only setting the run (thanks to the other co-hares too of course) but for arranging and bringing all the beers for everyone to enjoy.

At that the circle was closed and everyone settled back to enjoy the great evening once more.
