GM's Notes

Nick @ Pimp and I headed up the path from Youth Park and on towards the "Lemon Grass Trail". Just before the stream we turned right and continued up into the bush. The last time I ran here was 2 years ago and trying to find a path through the many prickly shrubs and overhanging rattan thorns was quite difficult not to say painful on times.

Continuing up we hit the stream once again and Pimp fell in love with the gushing water gurgling over the rocks as he had never seen this part of Youth Park before. We skirted the stream, crossing it once and continuing to skirt along on the other slope. Recognising where we were we started to climb the steep slope and startled a walker as we stumbled out at the top onto the path.

Crossing the path we continued down and the view from the big rock looking over the Turf Club was beautiful and clear. This was another first for Pimp as he drank in the wondrous spectacle below. Continuing downwards the bush was thick and thorny in many places and neither of us had a cutter to make the path easier so we just bashed through as best we could. It cleared in places revealing some familiar territory and I didn't know to be happy or not when we finally emerged on the lower part of the "LG Trail" once more.

Since we knew that paper would be visible from the stream below we laid just enough to guide the pack without littering the place until they reached and crossed the stream and could then find their way back home.

The run was short in our minds but it was gratifying to hear later in the evening that the pack would did the run were happy with the trail. Goodyear was out first in just under 50 mins followed by a slew of others thereafter.

The evening was great especially as the threatened rain never materialised. The jungle drums, relaying the fact that fabulous food was being served, must have been doing overtime as the numbers swelled considerably as the evening progressed. The Bunny, Call Girl and her friend Grace were continually serving throughout the evening with only a small break for the circle. Seconds, thirds, even fourths were being devoured by some as the chat and beers poured forth freely. Cheng and Frank were ever faithful with the durians too, so a great feast was certainly had by one and all.

Many thanks to Lyna @ Call Girl for the great evening and fabulous food! Thanks too to Grace for helping out and donating the durian biscuits.

Circle.

1. First to be acknowledged were the guests for the evening: Simon, Elyse, Glen @ Flying Kiwi, Chris @ Juicy2, Jaee. Welcome! Welcome! Welcome!
2. The next to the ice throne were the dinner Club President, Spermwahle with two of his new members, Marks & Spencer and Bibi Tulips. Mini Sausage was also called out but pleaded with the GM that he had an MC.
3. It's always nice to see Bai Pass at the run as he has missed a few but he should remember to wear a hash shirt when attending.
4. The GM then called out the last runners, Silentman who acts as sweeper, Beauty Queen and Mother Hen. No matter who is slow James is always there to make sure they get home safely!! Many thanks.
5. Michelle then charged Beauty Queen and Ian for not remembering his hash name. What was it again?????.....oh yeah Botak Chin!!
6. The final icings for the day were for Pimp, who hared the run, Call Girl, Bunny of the Day and chief Chef for the evening. Grace also joined them as a thank you for helping out and donating the yummy durian biscuits.

It was a really great evening. Many thanks to all for making it so!

Next week it is Mini Sausage's run at Sungai Batu. Please come and support in this rarely used venue.
