GM's Notes

Having done one of Mini's run at Sungai Batu years ago I hoped this one would be shorter as it took me over 4 hours to complete. The five of us, Bibi, Rupiah, Cheah, Philip and myself, were given "permission" to set off early and after listening to the Hare regarding the run we headed towards the rubbish dump where it started. It was about 5.30pm by this time.

The beginning soon lived up to the Hare's description of up and down on the same hill when after one up and down we hit back on the road just as a black car was heading towards us. It was Alastair who thought we were heading to the runsite but after a quick chat he reversed and went off as we carried on.

What we all noticed and mentioned was the erratic clipping of the paper. It was in all directions and was very hard to find even from the beginning, as once again we headed through the dump and more rubbish in search of it and the trail. At this point Bibi declared she'd had enough and wanted to turn back but she carried on.

We went down and over slippery boulders then up a steep climb. Everything that we touched or held for support was either rotting or rotted and came away in our hands so we struggled up the hill. Bibi, Cheah, and Rupiah seemed to have a bit more umph and soon disappeared to leave only Philip and myself in each other's company. About this time David, Alastair, Mark and Anjalai overtook us and just as I reached the top so did Goodyear.

As we descended we were continually looking for paper to guide the way as it wasn't clear at all which route to take and hence it wasted a lot of time in having to do so. When we finally hit the bottom we wasted more time trying to find the route as the paper seemed to have just disappeared. Iceman and Longhair caught us at that point and helped search and it was finally found in small pieces in the corner where we exited onto the path.

At this stage both Philip and I were exhausted having always to be looking for paper not knowing the real nightmare was still to unfold once we reached the beach where a sea of rubbish greeted us!! We both thought that having reached the beach it would be an easy 'On Home' and Philip soon disappeared but no! To my horror the trail took us back into the bush once more and at that point Frank caught up. He said the only path back to the runsite was through the bush. Shouting for Philip, who by now had also realised it wasn't going to be easy and was returning, we climbed the steep rocks as Frank went on.

The nightmare continued as light was fading fast and once more we had to waste precious time looking for the ill-clipped paper. Suffering severe cramps and a seemingly never ending trail we slowly made our way, a painful step at a time. We hit the beach once more and again were greeted with a flotilla of rubbish. Searching also for paper I couldn't help but feel sorry for the back runners. Searching for paper in the fading light was hard enough but in the dark it would be almost impossible. Finally we reached 'home' where Mike greeted us with some relief. The nightmare was over and we had made it! It had taken 3 hours!!

In my opinion it was a good long run but the trail was poorly marked and precious time was wasted on many occasions trying to find it. It may have been OK for the front runners as they had light and speed on their side, although I heard they also complained about the poor trail, but for the slow runners who often come out in the dark we need the trail to be more clearly marked. So please all take note for the future. Think of the back runners not just the fast FRBs.

Mini had wanted to also treat us to dinner at the seafood village restaurant but it had changed hands and beer was no longer permitted. Instead he provided Nasi Lemak at the runsite plus fruits from Cheng, which all went down well. Together with a crate of free beer from Mini persuaded quite a number of hashers to stay on until 10pm at least.

For such a difficult place to get to it was heartening to find we had 27 members turn up of which 15 did the run!! Kudos to all!

Many thanks Mini for a good run, food and free beers. A rarely used runsite but with good views! Pity about the rubbish around though!

Circle

1. First on the ice was Money who refused to take the blame for clipping the hard to find paper!!
2. Mini then put Take Care on the ice for coming early to the runsite, getting lost and then not doing the run at all but stayed around to drink beers!!
3. At month end we celebrate the month's birthdays. Only Cheng was around for the July celebration but she was joined by Bibi whose birthday will be in August but will not be here. Happy birthday to all July members and to Bibi.

4. Last on the ice was the Hare of the Day Mini Sausage. Our appreciation for the 'f***ked' up run were duly given and thanks for the food and free beers.

Next week the run is at Chin Farm, hosted by Alastair @ General. Please come to give your support.

On Saturday 1st August the PSC hosted their annual Gispert Run. We went along to represent the Harriets. Some photos are at the end of the newsletter and they are on the website.
