GM's Notes

Two little used venues in two weeks!! One at each end of the Island and although many believe Chin Farm is TOO far, it goes to show that nowhere on the Island is that far and it's great to run somewhere different than the old familiar trails.

Although Alastair had already blazed the trail the previous weekend, I welcomed his invitation to go and check it out and relay, if necessary, as it had been pouring rain in the intervening time, on the Thursday morning. With overcast skies threatening to open up at any moment we set off left and true enough the threatened rain began. Rather than being humid however it was cool and pleasant at that time of day around 8.00am. The trail Alastair had laid still had some bits of paper left here and there, most having been disintegrated by the heavy rains and so the ever faithful GPS was used to ensure the correct direction and path. The loose soil and wet terrain was a real challenge when climbing and descending. We crossed a stream which was swollen with the rain water and as normal I fell down a few times.

Alastair, in his usual considerate manner, had mapped out a short and long run to ensure all could finish in the light. I vaguely remember doing one of these runs in the recent past but even Alastair remarked that the topography seemed to change with the changing seasons. We crossed a deep gully, made our way along gushing streams and started on the on down. The side of the hill looked as though there had been a landslide and in some places there was nothing to hold on to other than roots. At the bottom we walked and the water tank came into view and then the usual long walk back to the runsite. Being already dirty and muddied we decided to go back in to lay paper for the short trial too thus giving us a chance to see how the paper would look going 'On In' for the evening's runners.

When we had finished the rain finally stopped. The sun came out and a beautiful day began.

In the evening Hashers began to trickle in, in surprising numbers, and we ended the evening with 31 members and 4 guests. Samy had called during the day to let the Hash know he was in hospital with dengue (we hope you are recovering Samy) and with Sai Seng not available, Akz Hole became the 'white samy' for the evening's beers, supplemented with Alastair's own supply of homemade cider. After Alastair had given the appropriate instructions the pack was off, the food was heated and prepared ready for the hungry hashers on their return.

Return they did quite quickly too for some of them, with young and fit guest Oliver coming back in just over 35 mins with hardly a sweat. He was all praises however for the run and welcomed the absence of a serious hill to climb. The others started to trickle in soon after with Mohan leading the way. The run was perhaps too short for these FRBs but I see no-one went around for a second time!!

Alastair had changed into his kilt and speculation was rife as to what, if anything, he was wearing underneath. A few ribald comments were made and even Gman tried to snap 'upkilt' photos to no avail. Alastair took it all in great humour however and nobody spotted that he had no hash t-shirt until he pointed it out himself, such was the fixation with the kilt!!

The home cooked vegetarian food was delicious and the pots were all soon emptied leaving nothing left for the President of the Dinner Club who arrived even later than usual!!!!

Thank you Alastair for the great change of venue, the absolutely delicious food, the wet and slippery run and for the cider which I know went down well with many. Thanks to Akz Hole too for stepping in to manage the beer sales for the evening.

Circle

1. First on ice were our guests for the evening, Graham (who has now moved back part-time to Penang), Rob @ Shit in a Pit, Dominic (Polish Piper's grandson). Unfortunately Oliver had left by then.
2. Normally we celebrate birthdays at the end of the month but we made an exception for Ding A Ling as it was her birthday that day and she works hard as the Beer Amah each week. Happy Birthday Wan Lyn.
3. Out of context the GM put the Hare of the Day on ice next and thanked him for choosing such a good and rarely used run site. She wondered if he had purposely chosen this remote site since he had been serving beans for dinner and hence didn't want to disturb the locals should anyone let rip!!
4. A charge from the floor saw Mohan@ Black condom iced by GoodYear. His crime was that he stopped at the stream to take off his shoes and socks before crossing the water.
5. The stream played a part in the next icing as Anjalai was charged by Alastair of whining, whining and whining on her return as she had to wade thigh deep through the water and she doesn't like to get her feet wet. She stated that she was waiting at one point for a good Samaritan to carry her across but no-one did!!

6. This led to the next icing as Gman was iced for NOT being Sir Galahad and carrying her across but just watched and laughed.
7. The President of the Dinner Club was iced next for coming way too late for the food even by his standards!!
8. The GM was charged next for some unrecorded reason.
9. Alastair @ General was thanked for the great location, slippery and wet run, delicious food (you missed something there Spermwhale) and the cider.
10. Finally Spermwhale was re-iced just as the circle closed but the noise by this time prevented hearing the reason why!!

Next week we are at the Permai Shoplots for Hot Lip's run. Please come and support.

Uncle Bee's Cafe is opening on the 10th August at Bee Gallery and you are all welcome for lunch between 12.00 and 2.00pm on the day!!
