GM's Notes

As Money, AML and I set off to lay the trail we came across paper from another Chapter and we wondered if they were also running from the same venue that evening. The finding of disintegrated paper said 'NO' and we breathed a sigh of relief.

This was a run we have done many times before but there were two areas I was a little concerned about. The 'On Up' trail was easy except for the fallen trees. Up we went and reached the water pipe. As we went along the pipe we came to the first of my concerns. There used to be a wooden 'bridge' to get you across the gap by some rocks but this has now rotted away and the only way was to climb up on the rock. With Money helping me and AML encouraging me I was finally able to get on the rock despite my fear of falling into the crevice below. Once done and the fear had receded we then came to my second concern which again was rocks. If you recall further down the trail you have to climb through and over some rocks to get to the trail the other side. In the past I have little difficulty in getting over them but this time they were moss covered and very slippery. Again my fear of slipping into the crevice below hindered my ability to get over them. Money had to help me once again but after that the run was easy.

While on the long walk back along the track we tried to look for an alternative route so that we would not meet the 'On In' paper but there was nothing that could be done and so we had no alternative but to 'Pan Handle' the run but at least it was only the last bit.

In the evening, after picking up guest Ross @ Vanilla Rice, who was here on a lay over from HK, the usual hard core duly arrived and went off after the usual instructions. Ross was actually back first in 50 mins with the others following in due course and the last back at 7.40pm. That was Pimp who came from a totally different direction having missed the turn along the trail, came out in the PBA and exited by the Indian temple for a long walk back to the runsite! Dieu Lah Sing, suffering from a bad back went in early and was out in about an hour 40mins but had plenty to say about the rocks since he also struggled to get over them, especially with his back limitation.

The food was served and the Bunny gave out beer and 100+ coupons to the Members. Afterwards we had the normal short circle (somewhat quieter than usual so as not to upset the locals in the flats nearby) and then sat and chatted the remaining time in a lovely balmy evening.

Thank you Rupiah for a great evening! A good run, good food and for the free drinks!

I must say one thing in closing though. It looks as though we are about to lose another run site!!! There is fencing going up on the left (hillside) of the new road. Apparently more construction is going ahead for all of that area, right up to the small farm. There is a Sales Office at the shop lots which is showing the development plan. Will it ever end????

Next week we are at the Quarry for Philip @ Dieu Lah Sing's run. Please come and support.

Circle

1. Our guests were welcome: Ross (Vanilla Rice) from HK, Gordon (Smiling Tiger) and Rob (Shit in a Pit) from Penang. Golden Cock was also there but left early.
2. Guest Stefan was next on ice for being deaf. When the GM called for the guests he was so busy talking as usual he didn't hear. Or perhaps he just wanted the ice to himself!!
3. Another well known circle talker is Michelle. She was iced not for talking this time but for not wearing a hash T-shirt.
4. Our wondering Minstrels, Kissing(h)er and Kiss Me have returned, albeit briefly I understand, from their 4 months trip to all sorts of places. Welcome back!!
5. A charge from the floor saw Polish Piper cooling his bum. His crime was again having no hash T-shirt even though he had one in the car. The GM reminded him that the last time he wrote on a piece of paper 'Hash T-shirt' and put in on his shirt pocket but he said he was still iced then too as the GM would not allow it!!
6. Due thanks were then given to the Bunny of the Day Rupiah for the good run, good food and the free drinks.
7. A late charge by Pimp saw Money take the Ice Throne. The charge was letting Pimp's wife know that he was late out yet again from the run after missing the turning. He now had to go home and face her ridicule!!

ALWAYS CHECK THE RUN SITE BEFOREHAND AS THERE MAY BE LAST MINUTE CHANGES

As he stood deep in thought . . .
