GM's Run Notes

The four of us, Sai Seng, Botak Chin, Toddy and I set off towards the gate leading to the back of the houses and proceeded to climb to the ledge. From there it was a right turn to hit the plantation and head towards the recycling area.

All around us were fruits and nets were strung up to catch falling durians and rambutans ripening on the trees. Passing through a vegetable patch we pre-warned the farmer about our intentions and about the impending hashers who would do the trail in the evening. His rejoinder was 'OK, as long as no-one picks any fruit nor tramples on the veggies!!'

Up we went and exited near a mountain of rubbish and rubble. Walking along the path we turned right into the bush and thus began our skirting up and down till we reached the Hash Highway. We eventually made our way down until we saw our 'On Up' paper and then headed back to the runsite along the panhandle.

It was interesting to see the Highway being used by a group of older persons in threes and fours, either jogging or brisk walking towards the Botanical Gardens from Charlie Market. They were very fit for their ages and pleasant too. There was one concern though that the currently 'development' of the highway is crudely being shaped into contours specifically made for bicycles and gouging out the hillsides without due care and attention. Even the old path leading to Lily Pond has now been seriously affected!!

In the evening we had 12 paying guests and many, many invitees. Our own members numbered 44 and a party like atmosphere was in the air with people eager to be off and into the bush! As the hashers made their way the Bunny got busy stringing a banner, specially made for the evening, while her friends got out the T-shirts and cut up fruits.

Samy caused a bit of a worry by turning up late, to the relief of everyone and soon the FRBs were heading back in. The last out returned about 8.00pm and the party was in full swing. Hashers gossiped, mingled and introduced one another to the new faces in the crowd whilst the beers were ever flowing. The food wagon, arranged by the Bunny for the evening, was busy cooking and dishing out Hokein Mee. A sea of green was a sight to behold as all started to wear the T-shirt graciously given out by the Bunny.

We had our usual circle which was quite a challenge this week due to the large numbers and many people continuing to talk and gossip. Perhaps I need a microphone since many said they couldn't hear me but then again I don't shout over noise!

 Next Week we are at Rifle Range Big Car Park for Grasshopper's run.

A charge from the floor by Iceman saw Peter return to the ice once more. The charge was that he never seems to follow paper. Well if he does it is often some other Chapter's paper. However he does always seem to find his way back in the end.

The GM then recalled Peter and Susan to the ice. She wished them bon voyage once again as they are returning to Australia and thanked them for whenever they are in Penang they come and run with the Harriets. You are always welcome.

The Circle

Akz Hole stayed on the ice as the Bunny charged him with being thoughtless in not wearing the nice T-shirt she had given out. Oooops!!

Hang your head in Shame!!

A second charge from the floor saw Akz hole next on ice. The charge was made by Ronnie Tour and was for ignoring him at the airport arrivals when Akz Hole flew in on Tuesday.

She then continued to collect a few others who had committed the same offence!! Money, Imposter, Punk and Shit in the Pit. Naughty boys!!

The Circle

Bunny on ice!! Many thanks for a great run, good food and of course the nice T-shirt given to all. It was a very, very good party night!!
