Run: 2468

Date: 30 May 2019

Bunny: Mem Sahib

Runsite: Bayee Pass

Bayee Pass isn't so far away and if you time it properly it takes no time at all to get there, but it was school holidays so that might have helped too. Our newest members John (no hash name yet) and Judy (Snatch and Grab) came to our place for a lift and off we went about 5.00pm. We arrived around 5.30pm with very little in the way of traffic and were surprised to see a number of hashers already there.

A little earlier I had received a call from the Bunny to say that Pukka Sahib was going in to lay paper and to part 'live hare' the run since the farmers had created some problems when he reccecd the run the previous Sunday. She may therefore be a bit late since PS had the car. Sure enough the car was still parked on our arrival but we didn't see hide nor hair of PS. A few of the early arrivals were chomping at the bit to get going and having found the 'On In' paper decided to do just that. As more hashers arrived other groups also got going and only 3 were left to start at the correct time. There was still no sign of PS however but the Bunny suddenly turned up with invitee Robin Hood coming to her rescue...as he would of course with a name like that.

The early runners started to return after about 40 mins or so and checking with them regarding the run they stated that PS was "down the bottom" guiding the runners onto the correct path. So at least we knew he hadn't got himself lost!!

By 7.15pm all had returned even Period who had helped to recce and was sweeper by choice for the evening.

The food was served. A delicious variety of rice and fried chicken; Chickpea curry; Tomato fish and veggies; with cup cakes to follow! As the crowd was small there was ample to go around and even have seconds and thirds.

The evening was wonderfully cool and the rain stayed away. Everyone stayed around chatting, eating and drinking. We had our usual quick circle and carried on after that. I started this piece by saying Bayee Pass isn't too far and really it isn't. The numbers were disappointing however with only 20 members turning up but we had a very good night in spite of that. I do thank all those who came to support. Thanks also to Mem Sahib for the evening's hosting, the food, the durians and for subbing the beer.

Circle

1. First on ice was Silent Man as charged by the GM. The reason was that on arrival at the runsite Silent Man wanted to know where to get his plastic bag from!
2. Pimp was next as a representative of those attending the run coming from further a field and in his case injuring himself whilst doing it. Thank you all for the support.
3. The GM then put new member John on ice. This was another introduction since he had been absent for the last month and to say he does not yet have a Hash name. So get your thinking caps on everyone for a good and suitable name.
4. A CFTF by Botak Chin saw the GM on ice. Her crime was for becoming famous with her photo in a number of Chinese newspapers following the photo-shoot at the run the week before.
5. Bunny on ice. Many thanks to Mem Sahib for the evenings' hosting. The food was delicious. The durians fantastic and for subbing several crates of beer. Once again we had a great night.

Funnies

A magician comes to a seniors' home for entertainment afternoon: "Aaaaand? Is everybody heeere?"

Seniors, enthusiastically, "Yaaaaah!"

Magician, winking, "But not for looooong.....!"

That moment when you notice that one fork isn't really very clean when you're laying the table and you have to decide which family member you like the least.

Woman at a maternity hospital is in a lot of pain, moaning. The man strokes her back, "I'm so sorry sweetheart that you have to endure this..."

She replies: "Don't worry Steve, it's not your fault."

When a blind woman tells her boyfriend that she is seeing someone, it could either be a really terrible news or a really great news.

If you see me smiling, I'm probably thinking of doing something evil.

If I'm laughing, I've already done it.
