GM Note's

Run: 2471

Date: 20 June 2019

Bunny: Beauty Queen

Runsite: Quarry, Botanical Gardens

The run had been set on the Wednesday and the Bunny, Beauty Queen, invited many friends from the mainland. The increased crowd lent an air of festivity to the atmosphere as many old members turned up also.

Since the trail was all on track many took their time as it was announced it was a short run. I hadn't set this week and so I decided to do the actual run but just as I was about to enter the bush Mission Impossible caught up to me. He was walking around the quarry grounds and invited me to join him which I did. Walking back and forth, up and down the pathways I saw the first FRB back in 40 mins. As usual the others slowly followed and by 7.30 all were back.

The Bunny had catered the food and it looked like a buffet as others also contributed to the loaded table. We were also celebrating two special birthdays with Tiger Samy turning 60 the following day and Grandma being a young 92 on the Saturday.

The food was wolfed back. The subsidized beer flowed and there was even whisky and gin for others. More members came and the crowd only diminished when the mainland people had to leave. We stayed until around 11.30pm but the party was still going strong and was certainly going to go on a while longer.

Many thanks to Beauty Queen who made it a very special evening with the run, food and drinks! In all we had 28 members, 4 paying guests and 10 invitees for the evening which was another successful Harriet night.

Circle

1. Happy birthday to the June babies especially Tiger Samy who was turning 60 on the Friday and to our own very dear Grandma who was turning a very young 92 on the Saturday. Also Happy Birthday to our other June babies whom we celebrated with a couple of weeks ago.
2. Welcome to the guests and invitees. Quite a number came for BQ's run which shows you how popular she is.

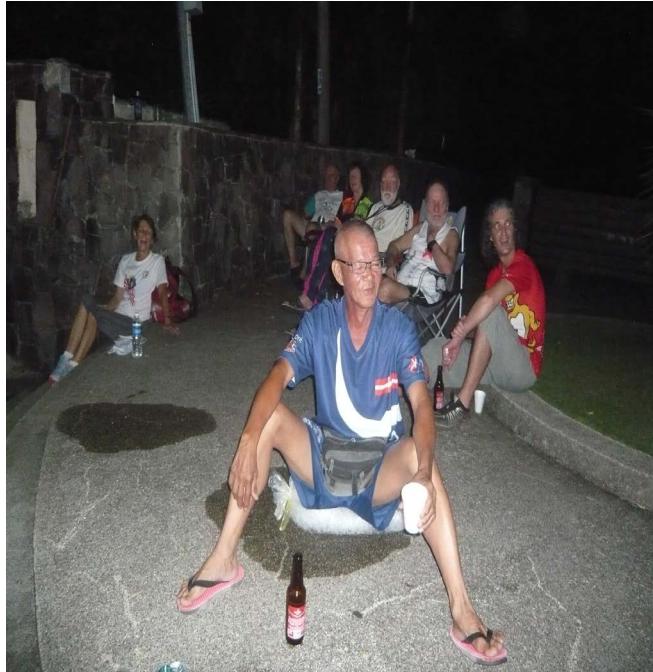

3. The GM then called out Viking to sit on the ice. Although the GM was not at the run the previous week (was flying the Harriet flag at the FTAC 1000th run) there was a photo taken that shows a ring of members all sitting around chatting and drinking except one. There were 10 of them and all were Caucasians which was half of the members that turned up that day! "Is this a new Club as with the Dinner Club?" asked the GM "and if so who is the President if Viking is the Vice President??"

4. Mission Impossible was next to take the Ice. He came to do the run but didn't do it and then stopped the GM from going in the bush by persuading her to walk with him around the grounds.

5. Take Care was next. He has been MIA for quite a while but often phones the GM at difficult times to get news of the venue and then doesn't turn up in the evening!

6. Due to business commitments Grasshopper is no longer a member of Harriets but is always welcome. He helped to set the run the previous day and then turned up later in the evening to join in the festivities. Nice to see you once again.

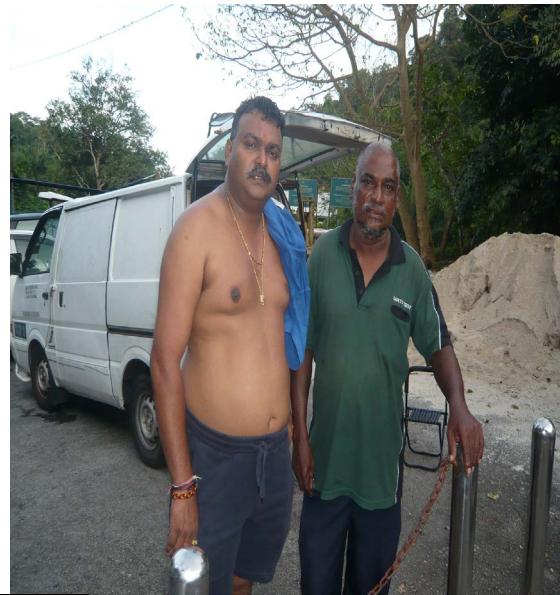

7. The last icing for the evening was a very big thank you to the Bunny, Beauty Queen. The run was just about right for the group that evening. The food was tremendous and plentiful and the beers, whisky and gin sponsored made for a great evening.

Funnies

I'm aware that the voices in my head aren't real. But their ideas are just awesome sometimes!

Somebody said today that I'm lazy. I nearly answered him.

I'm not lazy. I'm just naturally a very relaxed person.

I'm not saying I'm Batman, but so far nobody has seen me and Batman together in the same room.

What can you say when it's already late and you really want to go home?
Can you hear that? That's my pillow calling and it becomes really mean when I let it wait too long.

I'm standing outside. In other words, I'm outstanding.

My mood is currently swinging between an axe and gasoline.

A housewife's battle:

The household stares at me. I stare right back. Without breaking eye contact, I slide a piece of chocolate in my mouth. I won!

He who wakes up early, yawns all day long.
