VGM Note's

Run: 2475

Date: 18 July 2019

Hare: Botak Chin

Runsite: Lembah Permai, Shoplots

We had a small turn out for Botak Chin's run at Permai Shoplots with 23 members and 7 guests.

We welcomed the guests: Sam from UK, Marcus NZ, Kali PH3, Volker, Moira, Sawn Sim and Matthew.

The hare announced a short run, below 4km. True enough that's why Iceman did it twice. Generally it was a nice sweat out with lovely food plus subsidized beer.

Many thanks to Ian and have a nice holiday ya.

Burst, by Mem Sahib

I was asked to write a couple of sentences. This is the second sentence. The rest is a bonus.

The Permai run: taking the right hand route up through the orchard, up to the top of the hill then down to the Hash Highway leading to Charlie's but turning off early to come out at the back of Permai shop lots.

We arrived too early and were therefore in time for the on-off following Botak Chin's instructions.

There were only a handful around coz others had gone in early. Mem Sahib followed Moira and Silent Man as far as the first hill, short cutting through TAR college to visit original harriet, Edna.

Food was by kopi tiam: delicious curried chicken wings (no bird, just wings!), tau u bak and fried cabbage.

Good run, not too long, not too short, great food and the best of evenings.

Thanks Botak Chin & Co

Funnies

Being an actual wealthy Nigerian with legitimate overseas interests must suck.

There should seriously be a button on every TV that would make the remote peep.

If I would call my cat “Meow”, I can boast to my friends that it can introduce itself.

It would be good if toothpaste producers would make the tubes transparent; squeezing out the remaining toothpaste would be much more efficient.

When you rob a bank, you can stop worrying about rent/food bills for several years – regardless of whether you get caught or not.

Chances are, good looking nurses and doctors never get accurate blood pressure level readings from their patients of the opposite gender.

It's actually awesome how my body can take a hamburger and fries and turn it into more of my body.

In a hospital, you can find people experiencing the worst, the happiest, the first or the last day of their lives.

The next generation kids will be able to look up their parents on the internet and see their whole lives documented, no excuses.

Tissues in a box should have different colors so you'd be warned that you're approaching the last tissue.
